

I am writing in support of the current regulations in regards to net neutrality and internet service providers (ISP). It is vital to the well-being of the public around the globe to ensure that internet service providers are categorized under title II regulations as we can not simply rely on them to act ethically and responsibly. Please consider all possible ramifications of restricted internet access and determine to keep regulations as they are for the continued betterment of the country and the world.